

Enhance Your Power Presence, Confidence & Authority
The Global Protocol and Etiquette Group presents

“The Rules of Engagement” & “Developing Tomorrow’s Leaders”

Right or wrong, people do judge you by their first impressions of you.

Socially, if you're timid, insecure, clueless, or overly aggressive, you've felt the impact of that attitude on your personal and professional relationships.

People gravitate toward those who project self-confidence and success.

Everyone experiences uncertainty in common situations in life and business.

- ◆ Have you ever lost a client and didn't know why?
- ◆ Do you feel nervous and unsure of yourself in social situations?
- ◆ Have you ever been too embarrassed to introduce someone because you have forgotten their name?
- ◆ Does all that silverware, glassware, and china in formal dining confuse you or your family?
- ◆ ...And where are you supposed to put your napkin when you've finished eating, anyway?

Take your first step to success!

Call Denise and Carla today to begin the “Rules of Engagement” training or “Developing Tomorrow’s Leaders” training for the youth in your life.

Everyone of any age can learn to

- ◆ Project more confidence and effortlessly command attention and authority
- ◆ Develop and maintain better professional and personal relationships
- ◆ Feel more at ease in any social situation
- ◆ Develop and project greater leadership qualities
- ◆ Present the best possible image, everywhere, every day

When you feel confident in all aspects of social interaction, it shows; your personal and professional relationships thrive when you project personal appeal, trustworthiness and courtesy.

“What a fun evening we had at ABWA last night! Your presentation was fun and informative...we need to have you back again as you whetted my appetite for more...Your presentation was concise, factual, fresh, and up-to-date in its content and you gave an impeccable delivery, maintaining the audience’s attention...I look forward to having you back again...”

~Sherry Lee Denton, Professional Organizer, American Business Women’s Association Education Chair

“Your commitment to excellence, coupled with your enthusiasm, passion and content went above and beyond our expectations. Your presentation caused a progressive paradigm shift in our way of thinking, both professionally and personally...we were a bit skeptical... however, you transformed etiquette into empowerment!”

~Keith L. Brown, Lead Consultant, 20/20 Enterprises

“Thank you very much for providing our teens with the Dining Skills Seminar. This was a wonderful opportunity for them to gain some skills that will help them in the future...the program was very well-organized and the educational content was exceptional...The participants in the program really enjoyed the experience, and they will continue to utilize the skills they learned in other settings. In addition, they are now able to help other teens learn how important it is to use proper etiquette in all dining settings.”
